

"LITTLE FEAR OF INFECTION OF WOUND NOW," SAYS DR. MURPHY

dore Jr., who arrived from New York this morning on the Twentieth Century Limited. Mrs. Roosevelt and her children were overjoyed when they found the Colonel as exuberant, optimistic and apparently as vigorous as though he were not carrying in his breast the 38-calibre bullet fired at him in Milwaukee Monday night by John Schrank.

The following bulletin was issued at 1:30 o'clock (2:30 New York time):

"Pulse, 90; temperature, 98.6 throughout the entire morning. Breathing a little easier. General condition excellent.

(Signed):

"JOHN B. MURPHY,
"ARTHUR DEAN BEVAN,
"SCURRY L. TERRELL."

Now that his wife, his son and two daughters are here—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth came on from Cincinnati yesterday—the Colonel feels that a hospital is no place for him. He says he does not want his family to live at a Hotel in Chicago when they have their beautiful home at Oyster Bay awaiting them at the most invigorating season of the year.

Already the dominant and insistent Colonel is bombarding his physicians with demands that they allow him to start back to New York or at least take him out in the open air, but the doctors are firm in their stand that the Colonel must remain quiet for ten days or until after the period in which blood poisoning may develop has expired.

Strict rules were made about accepting packages addressed to the suite of Col. Roosevelt at Mercy Hospital to-day. Elbert E. Martin, the athletic stenographer who captured and disarmed the Colonel's assailant at Milwaukee, intercepted a package which had been sent addressed to Col. Roosevelt to-day, and after finding it contained jelly, he ordered it turned over to the police.

A package of grapes similarly addressed went the same route, and at Martin's suggestion the hospital authorities refused to accept any other packages purporting to contain food delicacies intended for Col. Roosevelt.

NEW YORK MOOSERS SEND FLOWERS.

George W. Perkins, on behalf of the Progressives of New York, to-day sent to the Colonel's room a magnificent vase of roses.

Mrs. Roosevelt to-day received from Mrs. Wilson the following message: "I am shocked at the news and express my sympathy with you in your anxiety and distress. Mr. Wilson and I await the latest news with great solicitude. (Signed) "Mrs. WOODROW WILSON."

A lengthy cablegram was received to-day from King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, but has not been translated.

The following cable was received from Crown Prince Frederick of Germany and the Crown Princess:

"Very anxious about your health. Hope you will soon recover."

Among the early messages received was one from A. Fallieres, President of France. It follows:

"I congratulate you most sincerely as having most happily escaped from the horrible attempt directed against your person, and I pray that you accept my best wishes for your speedy recovery and the expression of my whole-hearted sympathy. (Signed) A. FALLIERES."

Frank James, ex-bandit and brother of the bandit, Jesse James, sent Col. Roosevelt a message to-day the subject matter only of which was made public. He suggested that a bodyguard of one hundred men be selected to accompany the Colonel wherever he goes until after the election. His suggestion was that Col. Roosevelt appoint ninety-nine of the hundred and that he (James) would be the hundredth man and would pay all of his expenses.

Philip Roosevelt, the Colonel's cousin, to-day received a letter from a rich coffee manufacturer who disclaimed any desire to advertise, but who said that if the Colonel desired a good cup of coffee in the morning, were it to be the third or not, he would gladly come on to Chicago and make it for the patient with his own hands. The Colonel has not been informed.

Roosevelt's secretary spent most of to-day answering the thousands of messages of sympathy received from all parts of the United States and foreign countries. The former President insisted that personal telegrams of thanks and reassurance be sent to all who had wired.

The attitude of Col. Roosevelt toward his would-be slayer was commented on to-day by Philip J. Roosevelt, the ex-President's cousin.

"The feeling of Col. Roosevelt toward Schrank is most remarkable," said the wounded man's cousin. "He seems to feel no anger toward the man, but looks toward him in the attitude of impatience. When the shooting occurred he said: 'Bring the man to me; bring him here. Let no one hurt him.' After the Colonel had questioned the man briefly regarding his motives he surrendered him to the police and since that time scarcely has spoken his name."

Mrs. Roosevelt, her two children and Dr. Alexander Lambert, who accompanied the party from New York, left the Twentieth Century Limited at Englewood, a South Side suburb. Mrs. Longworth was waiting there with a big automobile. Mercy Hospital is on the South side, not a great distance from Englewood, and the trip between the station and the hospital was made in fast time.

At first only Mrs. Roosevelt was admitted to the Colonel's room. She entered with a smile and greeted her husband cheerfully. His robust and laughing salutation as she entered the door was plainly heard by the other members of the family waiting in the corridor. Later Mrs. Longworth, Ethel Roosevelt and Theodore Roosevelt Jr. joined their mother in their father's room.

The meeting between the Colonel and his daughter Ethel was affecting.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Daughter, Who Are with Wounded Man.

The young girl had been greatly worried about her father, whom she idolizes. She was reassured when she saw him sitting up in bed, bronzed, hearty and smiling. It will be recalled that the Colonel thought of Ethel in the first telegram he sent his wife after he was shot in Milwaukee. In this message he said: "Love to Ethel."

Just before the arrival of the Roosevelt family at the hospital Dr. Murphy, Bevan and Terrell visited their patient, while Dr. William MacAuley of the hospital staff, dressed the wound. The surgeons had with them the X-ray plates made yesterday. They found the wound healthy and showing no traces of infection. There was no trace of fever and the three surgeons issued a reassuring bulletin.

For the present Mrs. Roosevelt will remain at the hospital. Room 312, next to that of the Colonel, had been made ready for her by orders from the Colonel. The Colonel personally examined some conveniences that had been purchased before they were placed in Mrs. Roosevelt's room.

When Col. Roosevelt was informed that Mrs. Roosevelt had left the train at Englewood, within two miles of the hospital and would be with him in a few moments, his first concern was that the room be in order and that everything in the room assigned to her should be ready.

"She is a good housekeeper, you know," he told Dr. John F. Golden, "and she might scold me if she found the room not in the best order."

Mrs. Roosevelt to-day received the following cablegram from King George V of England:

"I have been very much concerned to hear of the dastardly attack upon Col. Roosevelt's life and trust that he will recover speedily."

Another personal cablegram was received to-day by Col. Roosevelt from King Christian of Denmark, hoping for his speedy recovery.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson of New York, who has been stumping the State of Indiana for the Progressive cause, arrived here to-day and was permitted to visit Col. Roosevelt for a few minutes. The Colonel gave Dr. Hutchinson a message of encouragement for the Progressives of New York State. Dr. Hutchinson will leave this afternoon for New York and will deliver the message to-morrow.

At 8 o'clock last night the surgeons' [the patient's] pulse to be 86, or fourteen below the last for the night—showed [the patient's] counts above normal and two counts above the record two hours after the shot, his temperature 99.2 and respiration 18, which practically may be considered normal.

The bulletin stated that there had been no bloody expectation, a condition considered very favorable as indicating that the bullet had not proceeded to any vital point, and certainly had not pierced the walls of the chest sufficiently to lacerate the lung tissue.

The bulletin, which is signed by Dr. J. B. Murphy, Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan and Dr. Scurry L. Terrell, concludes as follows:

"We find him in magnificent physical condition, due to his regular exercise, his abstinent abstinence from tobacco and liquor."

The bulletin then carries this significant statement:

"As a precautionary measure, he has been given a prophylactic dose of anti-tetanic serum to guard against the development or occurrence of lockjaw later."

Despite the reassuring bulletin that were issued from the sick-chamber throughout the day, it was definitely decided to abandon the entire speaking campaign mapped out for the Colonel for the closing weeks of the great struggle.

The tentative agreement is that he shall remain in the Mercy Hospital for at least a week, and then, in the event of no serious developments, it is proposed to remove him to Oyster Bay for the remainder of the convalescing period.

Former Senator Beveridge, Medill McCormick and J. C. Shaffer, editor of the Evening Post, were the political friends who called. Mr. Beveridge was given the speech the Colonel was scheduled to deliver in Louisville to-night and will go to Louisville and deliver the message.

Mr. Shaffer and Mr. McCormick impressed on the Colonel that his campaigning was over. They pointed out that grave results would be sure to follow any attempt to continue on the stump.

SCHANK IS SANE, SAYS PROSECUTOR, AND WILL BE TRIED.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 15.—John Schrank, the man who planned to slay Col. Roosevelt here, is legally sane, according to a statement by District Attorney W. C. Schenk to-day.

"The man has a perfect knowledge of right and wrong, and realizes that the act which he committed was against the law," said the county prosecutor. "Medically he may have a slight aberration, but only experts could determine that. The man will be given a fair and impartial trial. He has been granted ample time to prepare for this."

Schrank was bound over to the next term of the Municipal Court. He will be tried some time in December.

District Attorney Schenk to-day appointed three physicians, whose names he withheld, to make an immediate investigation into the mental condition of Schrank.

BRYAN SYMPATHETIC, BUT RELENTLESS IN WAR ON ROOSEVELT.

FRANKLIN, Ind., Oct. 15.—"It is embarrassing to discuss Mr. Roosevelt and his policies at this time while he is suffering from the murderous assault made upon him," was the way William J. Bryan opened his first address on his Indiana tour here to-day.

"I would rather occupy the time," continued Mr. Bryan, "in denunciation of the deed and in expression of sympathy for him and hopes for his speedy recovery, but the issue of this campaign should not be determined by the act of a madman. They must be settled by the sane rather than the insane. Neither Col. Roosevelt nor his friends could ask that the discussion be turned away from the principles that are involved. If he is elected President it should be because of what he has done in the past and what he proposes to do in the future, however cowardly and dastardly his deed, is not the arbiter to whom to submit a Presidential contest."

SCHANK IS DESERTER FROM GERMAN ARMY.

MUNICH, Oct. 15.—Having failed to serve the required period in the German army before going to the United States, John Schrank, Col. Roosevelt's assailant, has been carried on the army records as a deserter, according to the military authorities here to-day. As a boy at Erding, Bavaria, he was considered so eccentric, old acquaintances of the Schrank family said, that he could not find employment in his native town.

KILLED FOR DENOUNCING ASSAILANT OF ROOSEVELT.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—While denouncing the attempted assassination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, James V. Colbeck, a young business man of McKees Rocks, was stabbed by an unidentified assailant and died a few hours later at the Ohio Valley Hospital.

Colbeck engaged last night in an argument with the prosperous appearing Italians in a cafe and had resented the remarks of one of the men who spoke deprecatingly of Roosevelt, by knocking him down. When quiet was restored, Colbeck said that the man who had assaulted Col. Roosevelt was a coward and should be made an example of. At this remark one of the Italians plunged a knife into Colbeck's stomach. Both men fled as the victim fell and neither has been arrested.

BROKERS GIVE UP $400,000 LOST BY DEFAULTING CLERK

More Than 80 Per Cent. of Wider's Loot Is Returned to Russo-Chinese Bank.

More than $400,000, or practically 80 per cent. of the value of the gilt-edge securities stolen last year from the vaults of the then Russo-Chinese bank agency at No. 50 Pine street by Edwin J. Wider, a 22-a-week clerk, has been recovered from the New York Stock Exchange houses where Wider traded in stocks. Reports from St. Petersburg, headquarters of the bank, confirm the settlement, which representative of the financial concern in New York say they cannot discuss.

"The amount we got from these Stock Exchange houses was sufficient to fully satisfy the directors of the bank," said Julius Goldman, lawyer, of No. 111 Broadway to an Evening World reporter to-day. "I represented the bank in the negotiations with James M. Beck, Louis Marshall, George S. Graham and others who were retained by the various brokers involved. I gave my word not to reveal the terms of the settlement, so I cannot name the exact sum they paid over."

A reporter from The Evening World called at the offices of the bank in Pine street, and found the hallway on the second floor filled with boxes which a clerk said contained the books, records, etc., of the agency which were about to be shipped to St. Petersburg. "We are winding up here," he added. "Our agent, M. Etienne de Markowski, expects to be recalled to the London office, and when we have finally closed this office our American business will be handled entirely by the National City Bank and Laidlaw, Tatham & Co., who have been retained as our correspondents."

Later, Mr. de Markowski told the reporter that since the defalcation of Wider the Russo-Chinese bank had been merged with the Banque du Nord under the name of the Russo-Asiatic Bank, with a capital of $5,000,000. A third of concern was capitalized at $5,000,000 roubles. A rouble is 52 cents in United States money.

He said that the head of the merged concern was the former Russian Minister of Finance, M. Poutloff, who was head of the Russo-Chinese bank, and that although the new concern had withdrawn its two American agencies, at New York and San Francisco, it still maintained 170 branches in Russia, China, France, Japan and England. M. de Markowski is the inspector from St. Petersburg who came to New York four weeks before the arrest of Wider and whose inspection of the books brought about the arrest of the defaulting clerk.

Wider stole about $500,000, although he was credited at one time with taking $680,000. He is now serving a fourteen-year sentence in Sing Sing. He came to New York from Germany four years before his arrest, and after working in several banks got employment with the agency of the foreign bank, which proved his undoing.

"About two years ago I met the woman who is now my wife," he said before going to prison. "I fell in love with her. I tried to make the best impression I could. She thought I was a banker and I was merely a clerk. We were married, and my salary of $1,200 a year seemed small and one day I was tempted to speculate. I began to carry accounts with various brokerage houses, and I used securities belonging to my employers."

Following the conviction of Wider suits in behalf of the bank were started against the Stock Exchange houses where he had lost his employers' funds. There is a rule of the Stock Exchange forbidding its members from carrying accounts of bank clerks and employees.

BUILDING IN FRONT OF WHICH ROOSEVELT WAS SHOT IN AUTO

WHERE COL. ROOSEVELT WAS SHOT IN AUTO—AN APPEAL ASSOCIATION

In the settlement reached one concern alone is said to have paid back to the bank more than $200,000. The suits have been discontinued.

A lawyer concerned in the settlement said: "This settlement establishes the fact that there is honesty on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange. Not one of the houses involved in the Wider transactions was legally obligated to return to the foreign bank the value of its securities, but they felt that they were morally obligated to do so under the rules of the Exchange. I think this speaks well for business integrity in Wall street."

GOVERNOR'S MANSION AFIRE, BUT DIX WENT ON SLEEPING.

State Executive Tells How Force Fighting Kitchen Blaze Failed to Awaken Him.

ALBANY, Oct. 15.—"When I got up this morning I found that the house had been on fire during the night and I had slept through it all," said Gov. Dix to-day. Investigation showed that the night watchman at the executive mansion during the early hours of the day had found smoke in the dining room. He called the fire patrol and the floor timbers under the kitchen range had been found smoldering. The damage amounted to less than $500.

"This is surely an indication," said the Governor, "that I have a clear conscience."

Madero Vetoes Salary Raise.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—President Madero today refused to sign the bill increasing the salary of the Mexican Deputies by 100 per cent. which was recently passed by the Chamber of Deputies. He declared their action unconstitutional and returned the bill, with the recommendation that it be reconsidered by both branches of Congress. At the same time he said the appropriations were insufficient to cover the increase they had voted in their salaries.

CARDINAL GIBBONS SENDS MESSAGE OF CHEER AND PRAYER.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Messages of sympathy and congratulation continued to pour in all day to the hospital in which Mr. Roosevelt is lying wounded. This was received from Cardinal Gibbons: "Profoundly shocked by the news of your attempted assassination. Rejoice in the prospect of your speedy recovery. May God ever protect your valuable life."

A personal friend of Roosevelt's, Lord Curzon, wired: "One thousand congratulations," from his country home at Baginbato, England.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—With $1,155.36, which he had taken from his father, stuffed in his pockets, Elmer McWhee, lame, eleven years old, started out with a boy chum to-day to "go out West and hunt Indians." They were arrested after having spent a dollar, attending motion picture shows.

WORKED LIKE MAGIC RED, SCALY ECZEMA YIELDS TO SAXO SALVE.

A Highland, N. Y., woman writes: Since 1901 I suffered from eczema and my skin was very tender, red and scaly, and I could find no relief until I used Saxo Salve. The first application worked like magic, in less than a week the sores were gone and now the skin is healed and smooth, thanks to Saxo Salve.

An all forms of eczema, and all other crusted or scaly humors and eruptions, Saxo Salve has given astonishingly good results. The great improvement that it makes in the first few days shows plainly that you can place full trust in its curative power.

We have so much confidence in it that we give back your money if you are not satisfied with Saxo Salve.
